

FHCA 2050: Rough Draft

Due date: November 29th

ASSIGNMENT INFORMATION:

For this assignment, look over the project requirements for the final. Begin preparing the documentation for your concept document.

You will have different requirements depending on whether or not you are creating a video game or new media art installation. Please review the document that matches your project.

For the rough draft of your document, do the following:

- Have information regarding all the required information. You do not have to meet the work count yet.
- (Optional) Have a rough concept regarding how you are going to format your document and format your rough draft in that way.
 - If you choose not to design your concept document, then a standard 12-point, double-line spacing and Times New Roman font formatting will do.
 - Depending on how you create your concept document, you could use it as your presentation as well!

For inspiration regarding formatting for your document, you can research Video Game Pitch Deck. Additionally, you can research EPK (electronic press kits) or Show Bibles. These are typically for films, but can work for video game pitches as well!
